SEES POLITICAL ISSUE ON OLEO

Ohio Grange Master Says Tax Repeal Bill Brings To Focus Major Conflicts.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 18 — Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange, told the senate finance committee today that the bill to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine could become a nation-wide political issue.

The measure would abolish the tax of one-fourth of a cent on uncolored margarine and 10 cents on the colored product.

Fichter, who also is chaplain of the National Grange, asserted the real purpose of the proposed legislation was "to make possible the manufacture and sale of colored oleo." He added in a statement prepared for the committee:

"The bill is important enough to become a major political issue in Ohio and perhaps on a nation-wide scale in the November elections.

"It brings to focus the conflict of interests between city and rural areas, and its enactment into law would be cause for farm people to conclude that they have once more been cast in the role of country cousins who produce food for the family but who should be satisfied to leave important decisions regarding their welfare to others."

Sees City Agreement

"I am confident," Fichter said, "that when city residents become fully informed about the issues involved in this legislation they will be as much opposed to it as the farmers are. This is not a choice between city and farm."

"I do not believe," he added, "that city consumers are too much concerned about such a small possible reduction in the cost of oleo when the repeal of the tax can be very harmful to agriculture and to our whole national economy.

"Incidentally, the price of oleo in grocery stores increased four cents per pound during the last two weeks."

"The Grange feels," Fichter said, "that the sale of oleo with a color imitating butter would undermine the economy of dairy farming. We consider dairy farming to be an essential factor in sound conservation practices."

The importance of dairy farming in Ohio was stressed by Fichter.

"There are in Ohio approximately 220,000 farms," he said. "On more than 170,000 of these farms, farmers rely on the returns from the sale of their milk and cream for needs ranging from daily cash income with which to purchase other foods and to obtain money to carry on diversified and specialized farming operations.

Concerned Over Supply

"I am not pleading," Fichter said, "in behalf of the selfish interests of dairy farmers, of dairy manufacturers, or of farmers as a whole. I am urging the defeat of this bill as a means of helping guarantee an adequate supply of milk, for all the families of the nation, as a means of making possible the continued production of butter, as a means of stabilizing agriculture economically, and as a means of conserving our soil."

150 New Homes Scheduled For Construction This Year In Two Marion Subdivisions

Mayor Harry L. Dowler will break ground Friday for the first of 150 new homes to be built in two Marion subdivisions during the coming year. Ceremonies marking this step in Marion's growth will take place at 2:30 p. m. Friday before public officials, business men, industrialists, representatives of housing groups, clubwomen, commanders of local veterans organizations, and other invited guests.

The ground breaking ceremony will take place at the corner of Uhler and Indiana avenues and will start construction of a 58-unit subdivision, estimated to cost a million dollars, being built by the Marion Contracting Corp. of 139 East Center street.

Similar ceremonies will take place late in June when Ludwig and Kibbey Enterprises begin construction on a 90-home subdivision on Blaine avenue extension. A second project by this firm is scheduled for 1949 and already land for it has been purchased. This second project will contain 100 houses.

The Marion Contracting Corp. subdivision will occupy all of both sides of Uhler avenue and all the west side and part of the east side of Seffner avenue lying between Mt. Vernon and Indiana avenues.

Ludwig and Kibbey Enterprises will build their subdivision on both sides of the southern extension of Blaine avenue between Bellefontaine avenue and Thew avenue parallel with Windsor street. The subdivision will also include the seven now vacant lots on the southern end of Windsor street.

This subdivision will occupy a tract of 38 acres lying south of Bellefontaine known for many years as the Schofield farm. It is part of the estate of the late Judge George B. Schofield.

Details Outlined

Ernest L. Davis, president of Marion Contracting Corp. describes his company's project in this way:

"Our aim is to build 58 individual dwellings. We will achieve this by placing a moderate sized, moderately priced house on each large lot, setting the houses an average of 82 feet back from the curb. All houses will be set on lots with 100 feet frontage and have an average lot depth of 155 feet. Houses will be of similar size but each house will be completely different from every other house in appearance, and interior and exterior finish. We have employed Charles Oborn, a Marion architect, to make sure that each house meets the individual design and decoration preferences of its owner. Each house will have a one or two-car garage attached by a roof with a breezeway beneath. The basic house will measure 28 feet by 30 feet, which with the passage, breezeway, and garage attached will give it an overall size of 28 by 62 feet. Each house will be built progessively, one after the other to meet the individual desires of its owner. Basic design of all the houses is pure Cape Cod Colonial. All houses are combinations of pre-cut and conventional construction. These homes were designed and conceived by John Pease of Cincinnati, a former Marion man, and have been built in Illinois, Indiana, Florida, and Washington D. C. There will be no alleys in this allotment. All houses will have individual driveways running from the attached garages to the streets, which will be 66 feet wide with a 32-foot pavement on Seffner avenue while Uhler avenue will have a street 60 feet wide with a 28-foot pavement.

Nelson Realty Co. of 139 East Center street will handle sale of the properties."

Ludwig & Kibbey Plans

Cleo R. Kibbey, senior partner of Ludwig and Kibbey today described development of his company's sub-division as follows.

"Houses will be set on lots of two frontage widths; 50 feet, and 65 feet, depending on location. The 50-foot lots will have a depth of 141 feet while 65 foot lots will have a depth of 150 feet.

"John Ruth, assistant city engineer, has completed surveys and developed plans for laying out this subdivision, which in all comprises 38 acres, and will extend in length the equivalent of

WILLIAMS TESTIFIES ON PHONE SERVICE

Marion Man Appears Before Utilities Examiner.

Clare Williams of Marion, general manager of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. told the state utilities commission in Columbus today the company was attempting to improve the service in the New Philadelphia-Dover district.

Williams testified at a hearing on the company's plea for higher rates at the 32 exchanges in the district, The Associated Press reported. The hearing was held before Attorney-Examiner Eugene Nolan.

"Revenues have not been adequate to keep pace with the steadily increasing costs of operation," Williams said.

He gave a detailed account of improvements made by the company in the past eight years, but said the utility had been hampered by difficulty in obtaining supplies.

Williams was questioned by Don C. Power of Columbus, attorney for the company, who sought to show the utility was replacing old equipment and expanding facilities as rapidly as it could.

Williams testified the company, serving 14,070 subscribers in 11 counties of the Philadelphia-Dover district, faced steadily increasing costs for materials and labor. He cited increases of more than 100 per cent in the volume of local messages and toll calls. He presented a chart to show fluctuations in demands for service during the day resulting in congestion of facilities.

STALIN BACKS WALLACE PLAN

Accepts "Open Letter" as Basis for Settlement of Soviet-U.S. Difficulties.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 18 — Prime Minister Stalin says Russia is willing, if the United States is, to accept Henry A. Wallace's recent "open letter" to him as the foundation for peaceful settlement of Soviet-American quarrels.

In a statement dated yesterday and released by the Soviet press department last night, Stalin replied to proposals made by Wallace at a political rally in New York a week ago today.

"I do not know," Stalin said, in his first public pronouncement in more than a month, "whether the United States government approves of Mr. Wallace's program as a basis for agreement between the U.S.S.R. and the United States."

"As far as the government of the U.S.S.R. is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program should serve as a good and fruitful basis for such an agreement and for the development of international cooperation."

(In Washington, the White House and the state department withheld official comment.

(Wallace said in San Francisco he was "very much surprised" that Stalin had answered him, but added "If I have done anything that moves the world forward toward peace, I feel that my campaign will have been a success.")

Stalin's Summary

Stalin gave a concise summary of Wallace's proposals, which he said "are known to everybody," listing them as follows:

1. "A general reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons.

2. "Conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan and the question of evacuation of troops from these countries.

3. "Evacuation of troops from China and Korea.

4. "Respect for the sovereignty of individual countries and non-interference in their domestic affairs.

5. "The inadmissibility of military bases in member countries of the United Nations.

6. "World development of international trade excluding any sort of discrimination.

7. "In the framework of the United Nations, assistance to and economic restoration of countries which suffered from the war.

8. "Defense of democracy and

Offenders Not Being Reformed In Ohio Prisons, Report States

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 18 — Ohio's prisons are failing to reform offenders, the Ohio Post War Planning commission was told today.

The special committee of the Ohio Probation and Parole association on the Mansfield reformatory reported to the commission the state's prison system needed a complete overhauling. Common Pleas Judge John H. Lamneck of Tuscarawas county is chairman of the committee.

The committee declared that turning loose psychopaths and mental defectives after a minimum period of confinement was a serious menace to society.

If the state cannot modernize its prison system, the committee said, the courts should be restored the power to fix definite terms of confinement "and our penal institutions be maintained as custodial agencies only."

Abandonment of the Mansfield reformatory as a training institution was recommended. The committee suggested the reformatory be transformed into a receiving institution or an institution for psychopaths and mental defectives and that a new institution be established for normal prisoners.

The committee urged establishment of a central receiving institution for classification and segregation of prisoners given indeterminate terms.

Other recommendations:

"An institution for the criminal insane such as the Lima State hospital which is well adapted for the purpose, but is too overcrowded.

"One or more separate institutions to which borderline mental defectives, psychopaths, homosexuals, etc., should be sent by the receiving institution.

AT LEAST TEN KILLED IN N.J. BLAST, FIRE

Bodies Taken from Chemical Plant Wreckage; Search for Others.

By The Associated Press

KEARNY, N. J., May 18—A shattering tank explosion and fire shortly before midnight last night killed at least 10 persons at the sprawling Koppers Company Tar and Chemical division plant.

Nine bodies were taken from the ruins of the building along the Hackensack river and a tenth victim died in a hospital. Firemen searched the wreckage for additional victims of the blast that set off a fire in an adjoining building of the plant.

Det. Sgt. Charles Schillon had estimated from eyewitness reports that 11 workers were trapped in the building when the explosion occurred.

Names of the dead and missing were not immediately available.

Heard for 15 Miles

The blast, heard over a 15-mile area, sent a sheet of flame into the air over the plant's tar and chemical division. The reflection against low-hanging clouds was reported seen 10 miles away. A series of minor explosions followed the first blast.

Hudson County Police Lt. George Kelty, in headquarters a half-mile away, said the intense glare "seemed to envelop the police building. It was the closest thing to an atomic bomb explosion I ever want to see."

Firemen were cautiously feeling their way through the gutted building early today seeking trace of the missing men.

Collapse Feared

Fire Chief William Wandnas said he feared the second floor of the building might collapse on fire search squads.

Company officials refused information as to the cause of the blast, estimate of damage or names of the missing men.

Schillon said about 20 men were in the building during the shift change. The building housed a laboratory and machine shop on the first floor, and locker rooms on the second.

Schillon said eyewitnesses told him they believed all but about 11 of the men in the locker room had left before the adjoining tank exploded.

NOTICE OF PENDING STRIKE AT GM GIVEN

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 18—A formal 10-day notice that a strike "is pending" for 225,000 General Motors employes was filed today by the CIO United Auto Workers.

The union sent a letter to that effect to the state labor mediation board as negotiations continued in an effort to head off a second major walkout in the auto industry.

A strike of 75,000 Chrysler employes went into its seventh day without further violence on pickets lines similar to incidents yesterday that brought out state police.

A CIO-UAW official yesterday posed a threat to strike some 90 General Motors plants May 28 unless a new contract is agreed to by then.

Arabs Surrender Acre After 72-Hour Battle

By The Associated Press

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL, May 18—Jewish army sources said the ancient all-Arab town of Acre surrendered unconditionally early today after a 72-hour battle in the streets.

Haganah said earlier it had some 4,000 Arabs trapped in the old wall city, eight miles north of the Jewish port of Haifa. The Haganah fighters claimed control of the highway through the city, a link of Jewish settlements in the north.

Acre is just outside the area of Palestine designated as Jewish under the United Nations partition plan.

To the east, Jewish sources in Haifa declared 500 Arabs were drowned when Jews opened a dam and flooded plain lands south of the Sea of Galilee.

Tel Avis was raided by light bombers just after dawn, for the fourth straight day. The 45-minute attack was the longest yet upon the city. The Jews said they shot down one of the attacking planes and damaged another.

Captured by Girl Soldiers

Haganah said one of the attacking pilots crash-landed near Rehovot, 15 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, and was taken into custody by two girl soldiers. They said he identified himself as an Egyptian air force pilot officer. In the first day's air raids Saturday, the Jews also had claimed capture of an Egyptian pilot.

The Haifa informant said Arab armored columns were trapped by the rushing dam waters near Deganya on the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee. The plain lies below sea level in the Jordan valley along the Palestine-Trans-Jordan frontier.

Russia Recognizes New Jewish State

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 18—Russia became the second major world power today to extend official recognition of Israel last week, state of Israel.

The United States announced recognition of Israel last week, only minutes after the new state came into existence. Guatemala followed the United States.

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov sent a note last night to Moshe Shertok, former minister of Israel's provisional government, saying:

"The government of the U.S.S.R. has decided to recognize officially the state of Israel and its provisional government.

"The Soviet government hopes that the creation by the Jewish peoples of its sovereign state will serve the cause of strengthening peace and security in Palestine and the Near East, and expresses its confidence in the successful development of friendly relations between the U.S.S.R. and the state of Israel."

Pupils and Teachers Tired As All-Night Class Prom Ends

Approximately 200 seniors and juniors of the Upper Sandusky High school and members of the school faculty trekked home, weary but happy, this morning following this year's super prom which got under way around 9 o'clock last night and ended with a swimming party early this morning in the pool at Harrison Smith park. Highlighting the festivities was the photographing of the night's events by a photographer from Look magazine, who with a department editor arrived yesterday to tell the story in pictures.

Praises the Girls

"The prettiest I ever saw" was the photographer's pronouncement when the girls and their escorts arrived at the colorfully decorated school auditorium for the prom. At midnight the party went to the Star theater where they were guests of the manager, Leo Jones, for a buffet supper and a showing of the picture, "Scudda Ho-Scudda Hay." Later formals were changed for slacks and other less formal attire and "open house." Among those entertaining were Supt. Charles Davis and Mrs. Davis who served popcorn and coke, Miss Barbara Arter, who entertained with a square dance with music by a string trio and Carroll Kent as the caller. At the home of Miss Anna Jane Ellis hot dogs were served by the "washboiler full."

Cars of all ages and types afforded transportation. One hardy group traveled from party to party on a tractor-drawn hayrack driven by the senior class president, Richard Herring.

Swim After Breakfast

Breakfast of cakes and sausages was served at the school auditorium by "Aunt Jemima" from the Quaker Oats Co. After breakfast the more courageous ones went to Harrison Smith park pool for a swim and then home.

Supt. and Mrs. Davis, L. H. Houpt, principal and members of the school staff were chaperones.

No school sessions are being held today and tomorrow the pupils will return for their grade cards. The annual commencement exercises will be held Wednesday night.

FINDLAY MAN HONORED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 18—George Alvin Peregoy of Findlay, O., was among 16 milkmen awarded 1948 Pasteur medals yesterday for "distinguished public service." The Milk Industry Foundation makes the awards annually. Peregoy was cited for applying artificial respiration to a man and boy overcome by auto exhaust fumes. Peregoy is employed by the Windsor Dairy Products Co.

Negotiations Reopen On Railway Dispute

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 18—Under White House prodding, the railroads and three disgruntled unions began new efforts today to settle the dispute which forced government seizure of the trains.

The meeting of negotiating committees was scheduled just 25 hours before Federal Justice T. Alan Goldsborough is to act on a plea for a continued court order to keep the rail unions' members on the job.

The government obtained an anti-strike order from Justice Goldsborough. It is good until tomorrow.

OFFICIALS CONFER ON HOSPITAL PLAN

Marion Delegation in Columbus for Conference.

A conference in Columbus today between city and county officials and administrators of the federal-state Ohio plan for hospital construction is expected to pave the way for preparation of an agreement between the city and county on a hospital construction program to present to Marion county voters for approval this fall.

The commissioners and representatives of city council together with Mayor Harry L. Dowler and County Prosecutor James E. Reed were to meet with Dr. A. J. Borosky, chief of the state health department office of hospital facilities.

Purpose of the meeting was to obtain detailed information as to the extent of facilities recommended here in the Ohio plan, under which Marion has high priority for federal aid for hospital construction purposes, Mayor Dowler said.

Members of council to attend were Council Members-At-Large Harold Robinson and Newton D. Cunningham.

Information received today was expected to be instrumental in assisting city and county officials to determine how large an undertaking should be considered here under the pending agreement for construction of a new hospital.

DELAYS ACTION ON DISMISSAL OF STRIKE BAN

Judge Not Convinced There Is No Danger of Another Miners' Walkout.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 18—The civil contempt conviction against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers was dismissed today at the government's request.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, however, took under consideration a government request to end the anti-strike injunction against Lewis and the union.

Goldsborough said the plea for dropping the injunction came as a surprise and he was not prepared to rule on it immediately.

He added he is not convinced that there is no danger of a new coal strike.

The injunction was issued by Goldsborough April 21. It replaced a temporary restraining order of April 3.

It was obtained under the Taft-Hartley act to end a six weeks' coal strike, touched off by a dispute over pensions for elderly miners.

In seeking the dismissals, Attorney General Tom Clark informed the court the government felt the pension dispute is being handled appropriately, that the miners are at work and the "public interest * * * is secure."

Lewis and the union were convicted of both civil and criminal contempt for failing to obey a restraining order against a work stoppage.

Lewis was fined $20,000 and the union $1,400,000 on the criminal contempt conviction, but any penalty of civil contempt was held in abeyance.

In seeking dismissal of the anti-strike order Clark told Judge T. Alan Goldsborough the purposes of the government's actions against the miners—resumption of normal production in the mines—has been achieved.

Clark said therefore the government saw no need for continuing the 80-day injunction which Judge Goldsborough issued April 21.

The court action came as Lewis and the soft coal operators began talks on a new contract to replace the present agreement expiring June 30.

Apparently, the court moves are aimed at removing the government from any connection with the contract negotiations.

Reasons Stated

Speaking for Clark, Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison told Goldsborough:

"The sole interest of the United States in this entire proceeding has been, and continues to be, the protection of the public interest in uninterrupted production of bituminous coal, a vital and basic factor in the economy of this nation.

"It now appears that the dispute which gave rise to the concerted walkout of the miners in the bituminous coal mines in this case has been appropriately submitted for legal adjudication; that the miners are back at work; that bituminous coal is being steadily produced; and that the public interest in this case is secure."

The six-week-long work stoppage started March 15 in a dispute over pensions for retired miners. Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-NH) drew up a compromise providing $100 monthly payments for union members 62 years old or more with 20 years' service. Lewis is the union's representative on the miners' welfare fund and Bridges is the neutral trustee.

Operators' Trustee Opposed

The Lewis-Bridges plan was promptly challenged by Ezra Van Horn, operators' trustee. He sued to block payments contending it was an illegal scheme.

The pension controversy may crop up in the contract negotiations starting today between Lewis and the mine owners. Some of the UMW's district committee have urged raising the royalty on coal which pays for the welfare and retirement benefits. It is now 10 cents a ton on coal mined.

The opening session of the contract talks lasted less than a half hour. A recess was called after a dispute arose over the right of Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, to take part in the conference.

A credentials committee made up of three operators and three union representatives was set up to pass on Moody's eligibility.

The UMW has been challenging Moody's right to take part because neither he nor the Southern Coal Producers association signed the present contract last July 7.

Operator Charles O'Neill touched off the controversy anew by nominating Moody for one of the three places open to management on the rules committee.

United Mine Workers Chief Lewis entered the meeting with a commission from the UMW's 200-man policy committee to bargain for a new contract covering at least 11 subjects. The present agreement expires June 30.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

MANY years ago a boy was born in Russia who had a great dream.

The boy was a Jew. His dream was that his long-wandering people again would come home to Palestine.

And into his dream the boy poured his whole long life. But the dream a man gives his life to rarely comes true in the way he wants it.

Hal Boyle

Nor did it for the boy — now Dr. Chaim Weizmann, provisional president of the world's newest state, Israel.

For his entire career was devoted to creating a homeland for the Jews without bloodshed. He thought they had known too much of bloodshed. But already—less than a week after declaring their republic—his people are besieged, clashing with invading armies.

The din of distant battle doesn't reach the ailing 73-year-old scientist as he lies in his hotel room here. But it must hurt his heart. He has always hated violence and terrorism, always fought for peace.

He is a strange genius of many talents—this elderly chemist, statesman and money raiser.

To the average American Dr. Weizman is only a half-familiar figure. But for a generation his name has sounded like a bell to millions of oppressed Jews in many lands—a bell to freedom, a bell to guide them from the dirty ghetto and the fatal pogrom.

BORN IN RUSSIA, educated in Germany, Chaim Weitzmann became a teacher of biolchemistry in Manchester and a British subject. As his renown spread in scientific circles so did his fame as an advocate of Zionism.

He never shouldered a gun but he played a big role in helping the allies win two world wars.

Well-known is the story of how Lloyd George, faced in 1916 with a critical shortage of acetone needed in the manufacture of explosive cordite, summoned Weitzmann. Within a month the chemist, by isolating certain organisms found in horse chestnuts, discovered a way to produce synthetic acetone in large quantities.

ASKED WHAT HE WISHED in reward, he replied:

"Something for my people."

"This is reported to be the basis for the controversial Balfour declaration of 1917 which promised a homeland for the Jews in Palestine. But the declaration also said nothing would be done to "prejudice the civil and religious rites of existing non-Jewish communities" in the country, which then held ten Arabs for every Jew.

When Lord Balfour, British foreign secretary, asked if the Jews wouldn't take African Uganda as a compromise homeland, Weizmann lightly replied:

"Would you give up London and go live in Canada?"

When the surprised Balfour remarked he had always lived in London, the scientist told him:

"Yes, and Israel was a people in its own land with its own high civilization when London was a marsh."

In the second World War Weizmann supported the allies, offered his help in synthetic rubber researches. One of his two sons, an RAF flier, was lost on a patrol mission over France.

DR. WEIZMANN pioneered in the colonization and economic development of modern Palestine, helping its deserts to flower. In one trip to the United States in 1923 he raised $1,500,000 in cash for Palestine.

Hoping ever to win a Jewish state with British government support, he also sought in many ways to conciliate the Arabs. He wanted to avoid a showdown by force. His diplomatic policy often brought him under attack by his own people from two sides—the Jews who wanted to use more muscle, and the Jews who wanted him to give up the idea of a homeland altogether for fear of stirring a world wave of anti-Semitism.

Today "the Father of Israel"—a bald, short, smiling little man with a goatee that makes him look like Lenin—is old and tired. He has been in poor health since an eye operation in 1946.

Young men must save the state he helped carve out by 50 years of diplomacy. But they fight now to save it—as the states have fought to save themselves throughout history—with blood and iron.

NEED AN ASPIRIN. There's good reason for the headachy look worn by Albert Degillo of Detroit, pictured here in police headquarters. Picked up as a holdup suspect, Degillo has also been accused of teaching a 16-year-old boy the tricks of thievery. The youngster was arrested during a holdup.

How Added Take-Home Pay Is Spent Interests Business

By The Associated Press

...t are people doing with that extra $4½ billion added ... pay checks this year? The boost in take-home pay is ... up in dollars and cents beginning this month. The ... effect of the outflow of this new money, resulting from ... al income tax cut, is discussed in two articles, the first ... follows.

...YORK, May 18 — Some ... persons are getting a ... month on Uncle Sam. ... they spend that $4½ bil... ...onal take-home pay this ...ar with the almost $200 ...ved on estate and gift ... of prime interest to ...

...personal income this year ...ed to be $208 billion. ... Sam will get his hands ...billion less of it under ... tax law than he would ...der the old.

...industries hope to bene... ...ly and immediately from ... spending money now ... in the people's pockets ... of the income tax cut.

Sum for Average Small

To the average wage-earner, the additional sum in his pay check each week is so small that it will probably go before he realizes it.

For example: a married man with children who makes $50 a week has $1.30 more in his pay-check. One who makes $100 a week has $3 more. One in the $200-a-week class has $6.90 more.

The gain for married men with two children is less than for the childless, although their take-home pay is larger than his because of their exemptions.

A married man with two children, making $50 a week, now gets $1.30 more because he is now exempt from withholding altogether. One with $100 a week gets $2.80 more. And one with $200 gets $6.60 more.

But it is the sum total of all these dollars, adding into the billions, that business is eying.

These dollars might mean a shot-in-the-arm for some industries recently slipping from their postwar prosperity peaks as price resistance mounts.

More on Luxuries

These include liquor, theaters, sport events, night clubs, some home appliances, luxury goods such as furs, jewelry and cosmetics.

Some industries think it won't make much difference in their total sales. Examples are steel, copper, lead and others where demand already outruns capacity, and the problem is production and allocation.

Other industries even fear it may add to their headaches.

Among these are the gasoline and fuel oil producers, the electric utilities and natural gas industry. In these peak demand at times had threatened to top capacity and sometimes has resulted in temporary shutdowns. More money may put more people on the road in cars, speed up plant production and consequently the use of oil, electricity and gas, and otherwise strain the industries' ability to serve.

All are wondering if the new money will send prices higher, particularly on scarce items. Some hope part of it will go into "riskcapital" to open new business fields.

Ever since congress passed the tax cut bill over President Truman's veto, bookkeepers across the nation in big and little business have been working out new schedules.

7 Million Drop off Roll

This month they increased the amount of the employes' checks, from the office boy to the president. More than seven million persons have dropped from the tax rolls altogether.

An idea of how much new money will be pumped into the the distribution of the tax cut trade stream can be gained from savings among income groups, as worked out by the national industrial conference board.

Of the total savings to taxpayers this year, $5,225,700,000 (?), or 71 per cent, will be for persons whose net income is less than $5,000. There were 52,110,600 in this category last year.

How will it be spent?

Business men think a large part of it will swell the total cash available for buying consumer goods.

That might mean a boost to inflation. It could nourish the demand for the more expensive meats, the premium-priced used cars, the high priced small homes.

don't DO that!

WAR OF '98 RECALLED

COLUMBUS, May 18—Fifty years ago Saturday a regiment of 12 companies, inclusive of four from Columbus and one, G, from Marion, left here for a camp at Chickamauga, Ga. They were headed for Puerto Rico. Arriving there August 2, 1898, armed with Krag-Jorenson rifles, they soon fought a four-hour battle on the west coast resulting in the taking of Guayama from the Spanish. Though the war was nearly over, the regiment was not mustered out until Jan. 20, 1899, in Columbus. There were 1300 men. They returned via Washington, where President McKinley welcomed them.

A brine mine, a half mile beneath the surface of the land, has been a source of salt in China for ... years.

PLAN HARDING AREA BOY SCOUT CAMPOREE

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 16 — Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of the Harding area may gather here for a giant "camporee" on July 2 and 3, according to G. O. Van Sickle, Morrow county scout official.

Van Sickle said that tentative plans were made for the dedication of Camp Whiston, east of Mt. Gilead on July 3. He said he expected approximately 400 of the 1200 scouts and cub scouts in the Harding area district to attend.

Roy V. Whiston, Mt. Gilead druggist, donated a four-acre tract on the Whetstone river to the scouts last year, and the Mt. Gilead Lion's club is now erecting a scout lodge on the property. Members of the club hope to have the lodge completed before the dedication ceremonies.

Plans call for the scouts to come to Mt. Gilead on July 2 and to camp at the State Lakes park that night. The "camporee" will be held the next morning. Dedication service will be held in the afternoon and in the evening the scouts will participate in a parade and will give demonstrations around a camp fire planned to be held at the fairgrounds.

You knew
the moment you saw it—this was your car. New, all-new, every inch and pound of it. A big, brawny frame under a sweeping, curved-arch silhouette. Longer, wider, lower—with a road-hugging look that beckoned you to get in and go! When you saw it, you said "This is it! This ALL-NEW 1949 Mercury is for me!"

You heard
the proud, soft-spoken, 8-cylinder, V-type engine murmuring gently. You'd heard that sound before. Where? In cars far beyond your budget's reach. But here it was in an engine designed and built exclusively for Mercury . . . and in a choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.
You held the wheel easily, because Mercury didn't "wind-wander," didn't "over-steer." Its sure-footed balance and down-to-earth roadability let you hold all roads securely. Its new, bigger, super-balloon tires let you skim over the bumps without a tremor.
You touched
the brake pedal—just a slight touch—and Mercury's new super-brakes brought you gliding to a swift, sure stop. It was then you knew for sure that Mercury had made an all-new car—from top to tires—for you! Your car had finally come along. It was Mercury!
You sat
in a wide, "comfort-zone" seat that shaped itself to you—above all-new, road-smoothing spring suspension. You filled the car with a controlled flow of fresh, filtered air from the leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control." This was the comfort you wanted in your car. This was Mercury.
Someday your car had to come along...

FIVE TRAFFIC ARRESTS MADE

Also Report Seven Accidents in City Over Weekend.

...raffic accidents and five ...ere reported by police ... weekend.

... Jackson Jr., 19, of 559 ...reet was arrested by police ... m. today after being ... police for 24 hours to ... charges of leaving the ... an accident. Police charge ... was driving south on ... Main street at 5:05 a. m. ... when he sideswiped four parked cars. Police say he then stopped, got out of his car to view the damage, climbed back into his car and drove away. After being sought by police as far away as Mt. Vernon during Sunday afternoon, Jackson was arrested at his home at 5:30 p. m. Sunday night and lodged in city jail. He pleaded guilty in municipal court Monday to leaving the scene of an accident and was fined $50 and costs and his driving rights suspended for three years.

At 1:09 p. m. Saturday a three-car crash occurred at the corner of Columbia and South State streets. According to police reports a car driven by William E. Walter, 20, of 33 Nye street collided with a car driven by Milton Hopkins Jr. of 954 North State street and then struck a parked car owned by Roy E. Lesch of 228 South State street.

Harold I. Corwin, 49, of Detroit told police that lack of uniform location of Marion traffic lights was the cause of a collision between his car and one driven by Milan Ray Severens, 42, of near LaRue. Corwin said he observed the traffic light at one intersection which was at the side of the street while at the next intersection the light was hanging in the center of the street and he failed to see it until too late to avoid hitting Severens car. Both cars were considerably damaged in the crash which occurred at 4 p. m. Sunday.

Cars driven by Victoria Lola Thomas, 30, of 142 North Seffner avenue and Clement C. Hershey, 35, of 150 Homer street, collided at the intersection of Center street and Grand avenue at 12:20 p. m. Sunday afternoon with slight damage to both cars resulting.

At 12:01 a. m. Sunday cars driven by Eugene Burris, 32, of 127 Council street and Charles R. Gilliam, 18, of 183 Nye street, collided at the intersection of Main and George streets. Both cars were considerably damaged.

At 9:08 p. m. Saturday cars driven by Robert Thew of 675 West Center street and Richard E. Smith, 25, of 528 South State street collided at the intersection of West Center street and Blaine avenue with slight damage resulting.

A motorcycle ridden by Ray Perry Eager, 27, of 419 West Church street slid while passing a line of traffic on Bellefontaine avenue at Cheney avenue and struck a parked car owned by Robert Kuenzli of 664 Bellefontaine avenue at 12:25 p. m. Saturday. Eager escaped injury and both vehicles were only slightly damaged.

A rarely used traffic charge was invoked Sunday when police arrested Burnett V. Little, 26, of 351 Leader street on the charge of failing to obey a railroad crossing watchman at the C. and O. crossing on West Center street.

Police report that Little ignored a stop signal by the crossing watchman, then after driving across the crossing got out and created a disorder by arguing with the watchman. Informed of this development police filed a second charge of disorderly conduct against Little. The incident occurred at 3:06 a. m. Sunday. Little's car was held as bond for his appearance in court Monday. He was fined a total of $50 and costs by Judge Hazen after pleading guilty to both charges.

Herman Douglas Stallings, 27, of Detroit, was arrested at 3:01 a. m. Monday on North Main street and charged with speeding. He posted a $25 bond for his appearance in court this morning. His bond was declared forfeited when he failed to appear for hearing.

At 8 p. m. Saturday Robert T. Brown, 25, of Columbus was arrested on Delaware avenue and charged with speeding. His car was held as bond for his appearance in municipal court this morning. On a guilty plea he was fined $15 and costs.

Oscar W. Bostic, 25, of Centerline, Mich., was fined $15 after pleading guilty in municipal court Monday to a charge of reckless driving filed against him by police after his arrest on Delaware avenue at 4:20 a. m. today.

Unions and Inflation

REPLYING to the Ford Motor Co's announcement that it seeks lower wage rates and is unwilling to grant further increases demanded by United Auto Workers, spokesmen for the latter say they'll withdraw all demands if the company will bring about a substantial rollback in the cost of living.

Unfortunately, the Ford Co. can't do that. It was one of the first manufacturers to try to reduce the price of its products, but the reduction didn't stick. Continued increases in cost of production forced it and all other auto manufacturers to raise prices.

The only way to bring about a rollback in the cost of living is by cooperation, starting with the powerful labor unions that dictate the levying of wage rates. Wages are the main factor in determining prices. There can be no price stabilization and certainly no price reduction while wages are rising, unless the rise is offset by more efficient production.

Union leaders and management share the same problem. It is how to produce things at a price the public can pay. The public, of course, includes the same union members who complain about high prices yet help to make them higher by asking for still further inflation in wage rates.

If the Ford Co. and its union could get together—if they could agree to stabilize wage rates—that would be a long step forward. The alternative is more inflation for them, more inflation for everybody.

Aggression Against Palestine

STRIFE in Palestine must be considered under two headings—strife of internal and external origin.

There is perhaps nothing that could stop the former, except resumption of the British occupation. Hatreds run so deep that even the British occupation held them in only tenuous check, and the British have withdrawn.

But there is something that could stop strife of external origin. The hostile territories surrounding Palestine could be warned that if they continue to furnish troops and supplies for use against the Jews in Palestine, the governments they rely on for income will put duty above expediency.

Specifically, they could be warned that there are more important things in international relations than crude oil; that a war of aggression against the new state of Israel isn't worth all the oil in the Near East. It would be, temporarily at least, a sacrifice but the kind of sacrifice that devotion to peace demands. Appeasement in the Near East, for the sake of petroleum, is in the same danger of backfiring as appeasement anywhere else.

Lady Spy

SGT. JAMES M. McMILLIN, who renounced his American citizenship and fled with a lady spy assigned to find out what he knew as a member of the United States embassy staff in Moscow, has disgraced himself. But it's hard to condemn him.

The state department admits the sergeant was in the hands of an expert. The same lady once lured another American into disgrace in the same way. He escaped, after marrying her, and is in a position to know what Sgt. McMillin was up against.

Any fiction reader can supply the details... beauty, charm, savoir faire and plenty of money...long, graceful fingers in Sgt. McMillin's hair while he carried on tinkling conversation, giving away whatever little secrets he knew... a feeling of well-being in the lady's presence .. a conviction that never did the course of true love run so smooth...the trap unseen until the jaws snapped...and even then an unwillingness to believe that one so lovely could be so cruel.

As long as governments are going to spy on each other, it's easier to be reconciled to the mischief of lovely lady operatives than to the grim and unlovely characters that usually show up in the dragnets.

Radio Day

HEREAFTER Russia will observe May 7 as radio day in honor of Alexander Popov, the scientist who the Russians say invented radio. Moscow newspapers credit Popov with perfecting his invention 53 years ago, whereas Marconi took out his first patent on a radio device in England 52 years ago.

To do this thing up brown, the Russian radio should sponsor a contest in which a prize would be awarded for the best sentence of 25 words or less beginning, "I like Russian radio best because..."

The prize? A life-size photograph of Stalin suitable for carrying in parades.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Relationship Between President and Congress.

REALLY great presidents seek to preserve orderly government within the constitutional framework. Ours is a peculiar type of government, doctrinaire in many respects, particularly in the division of powers among the executive, the legislative and the judicial. The theory is that by means of this division of powers, tyranny becomes impossible. A process of checks and balances was instituted in the hope that no one man or one part of the government would act willfully, in opposition to the rights and interest of the people.

SOKOLSKY

The extreme new dealers have regarded this form of government as confusing and expensive. Their objective has been a concentration of power in the executive, congress becoming a "rubber stamp," and the courts, instruments of the presidential will. The "rubber stamp' congress, in theory, would be closer to the British parliament than to traditional American representative government. The president would, in effect, control the congress as the prime minister controls parliament.

Situations Different

The fallacy in all this is that whereas the members of the British parliament represent a political party in the house of commons and each man only himself in the house of lords, a member of the American senate represents the sovereign state which chooses him and a member of the house of representatives is the representative of the whole of a particularly constituency irrespective of party. The British parliamentary system makes the government, in both its legislative and executive functions, the activity of a majority party. The judiciary is separate, permanent, and non-political. In the United States, the political party is not much more than a vehicle for the election of officials; in office, each official functions individually. Thus, when votes are counted in either the senate or the house of representatives, it is not unusual to find members of either party on the opposite side of the party's leadership.

From British Viewpoint

Mr. Truman assumes, for the executive, an authority which is British rather than American. He regards the Republican congress as a personal opposition and he fights it politically. Congress has shown unusual forbearance in its treatment of the executive. For instance, Averell Harriman, on orders of the President, declined to give a congressional committee information which it rightly desired in pursuit of its legislative business. The speaker of the house could have sent a sergeant-at-arms to arrest Mr. Harriman, bring him before the house, give him an opportunity to purge himself of contempt, and if not, to keep him under arrest until he did purge himself. It is not necessary for the house to go through any judicial branch of the government, or it could have taken a milder step. When Mr. Harriman's name came before the senate for confirmation as ambassador associated with LRP, the senate could have, and in my opinion should have, refused to confirm him on the ground that he had been contemptuous of congress and therefore is not worthy of its confirmation. The Constitution clearly gives the senate this power.

Should Observe the Rules

The leadership of congress has been extraordinarily weak in its failure to safeguard and preserve its prerogatives. And this failure is harmful to the country because when due process is evaded, confusion must follow. Shallow minds regard legislations as obstacles to swift action yet, experience and wisdom show that it is not speed that promotes order but adherence to the rules. Anyone who passes through a red light knows the difference.

Harry Truman's smart-aleck repetition of Andrew Jackson's vulgarism that congress can try to enforce its decisions, is a juvenile retort to a great political problem involving the very existence of our form of government. In a word, if the executive defies congress and congress defies the executive, we have not a government but an anarchy. If congress refused the executive appropriations would Mr. Truman collect them anyhow? If he did, he would become a thief, and if he arrested citizens for not paying, he would become a tyrant. This extreme example shows how illogical Truman's position is.

The fact of the matter is that Truman is loyally trying to cover up the errors of the Roosevelt administration, particularly as regards the conduct of the war. Personal loyalty is not substitute for orderly government.

Issues Between U. S., Russia

It Was Much Simpler To Settle Things in 1933.

THERE ARE SIX outstanding issues between the United States and the Soviet Union.

1. The United States complains that Russia capriciously uses its veto power in the Security Council of the United Nations to thwart the will of the majority, to keep the world in turmoil and to forestall creation of an international police force. Russia, on the other hand complains that the United States is organizing an anti-Soviet bloc to thwart its legitimate hopes of development.

2. The United States charges Russia with doing everything in its power to prevent international control of atomic weapons. Russia charges the United States with refusal to share the secret of the atomic bomb and with intent to hold the threat of atomic bombs over the heads of other nations.

3. The United States complains that Russia seeks peace terms with Germany and Austria that would strengthen Russia at the expense of the western Allies and at the expense of Germany and Austria. Each accuses the other of violating the Yalta and Potsdam agreements. The United States accuses Russia of stripping Germany and Austria of everything valuable that can be moved to Russia. The Russians charge the United States with robbing them of reparations. The Russians accuse the United States of wanting to set up a pro-capitalist, anti-Communist state in Germany. The United States accuses Russia of wanting to set up a pro-Communist, anti-American puppet state in Germany.

4. The United States says Russia is trying to keep western Europe in economic chaos so it will turn to communism in desperation. Russia says the United States is bribing western Europe to follow its policies. The United States accuses Russia of trying to horn into the Ruhr. Russia accuses the United States of wanting to take over the economic resources of the Ruhr for itself.

5. The United States complains that Russia supports the armed forces in China trying to overthrow the government headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, that Russia is setting up a puppet state in Korea and has looted northern Korea of all valuable assets. Russia complains that the United States is supporting a corrupt regime in China against the will of the Chinese people, is trying to set up a puppet state of its own in Korea and is making over Japan to suit its own purposes without giving Russians any voice in the future of this vital country.

6. The United States charges Russia with annexing territories that should be free, such as Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia; with violating the sovereign rights of states, such as Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Poland, Finland and Czechoslovakia; with exerting pressure to the same end in Greece, Turkey, Italy and Iran. The Russians charge that the United States is butting in everywhere to thwart the popular will, notably in Greece, Turkey, Italy and Latin America. In general, the United States accuses the Soviet Union of trying to dominate the world and vice versa.

The proposed conference between the United States and the USSR would find them at loggerheads on almost every international problem, including Palestine—and a host of minor issues. It was far different in 1933 when recognition of the Russian government by the United States turned on such relatively simple issues as payment of unsettled money claims and international propaganda.

Russia cheerfully agreed to abandon all propaganda within the United States, to negotiate further on the money claims (no agreement was reached) and to grant freedom of worship. Diplomatic recognition thereupon was granted and Russia was one step further on its way to becoming a world power.

Just a Minute

The Grievance On the Other Foot

Employes have been on strike against a Cleveland hotel owned by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Why, Brother Alvanley! What big inconsistencies you have!

The striking hotel employes are asking a five-cent an hour wage increase retroactive to last November plus a union shop. But the BLE president is opposed to any contract which would permit the workers to "run the business their own way and violate the Taft-Hartley act."

The words are familiar but the source is more than strange.

It's a shame in a way the railroad strike didn't take place as scheduled. It probably would have been the first time in history anyone simultaneously was picketing and picketed.

Incidentally, it's still not too late for the government to seize the hotel and put Brother Alvanley to hopping bells. But they'd better not put him to running the elevators. He'd demand a relief crew for runs beyond the fourth floor.

UN Role in Palestine

By Walter Lippmann

IT IS much too early to write off the United Nations as a failure in Palestine. In fact, only now, after the events of last Friday, is the Security Council, or the United States as a member of it, in a position to take the kind of action which in the American official view is required by the Charter.

This action, said Ambassador Austin on Feb. 24, "must be directed solely to the maintenance of international peace. The council's action, in other words, is directed to keeping the peace and not to enforcing partition."

LIPPMANN

Action by the Security Council to keep the peace could not begin until the United Kingdom ceased to be responsible for the government of Palestine and until the State of Israel had been recognized as its legal successor in the territory defined by the General Assembly.

Up to Friday of last week the Security Council could have acted to maintain international peace in Palestine only if Great Britain, as the legal government, had said it was the victim of aggression. Britain did not say this. Therefore, the fighting in Palestine was internal disorder, like the uprising in Bogota, and not a breach of international peace.

Even though the violence was aided and abetted by Arab governments outside of Palestine, there was no case before the Security Council as long as the British government did not choose to call upon the Security Council for help. This is a crucial point in any understanding of what has happened in Palestine and of what is now going to happen.

Unable to Act

The problem of Palestine could not come before the Security Council in the form which enables the council to act to maintain peace until there was a government in Palestine which called upon it for help. Thus, it would have been impossible for the Security Council to take action against the external guerrilla forces in Greece if on Dec. 3, 1946, the Greek government had not requested it under Articles 34 and 35 of the Charter.

If the Greek government had taken the position of the British mandatory government that it was responsible for law and order in its territory and that it was not the victim of external aggression, the Security Council could not have taken action in Greece.

The termination of the British mandate and the recognition of the State of Israel have radically altered and greatly clarified the task of the Security Council. Any invasion of the territory of Israel as defined in the United Nations' resolution by the armed forces of Egypt, Syria, Iraq or Trans-Jordan is now an unmistakable act of aggression which the Security Council is obligated to oppose.

The whole machinery of the United Nations' organization can now be set in motion to arrest the aggression and to bring about a settlement of what is now, and only now, a clear-cut problem of international peace.

There seems to be little doubt that the king of Egypt has actually committed an overt and avowed act of aggression by sending his army and his bombers across the frontiers of Israel. He should be called sternly and promptly to account and ordered to desist.

No Act of Aggression

There is, on the other hand, no evidence as this article is written that the king of Trans-Jordan has committed aggression. The entry of his forces into the Arab portion of Palestine is not an act of aggression since there is now no state and no government in that territory. If he intends to occupy the territory up to the frontiers of Israel, and to respect the international status of Jerusalem, he has as good a legal title as anyone to do just that.

If he does that, the prospects of a reasonable settlement—that is to say of a peace treaty—should be reasonably good. For the kingdom of Trans-Jordan is a British satellite state: It was created by the British government, its king was set upon his throne by Britain, its government derives almost all its revenue from Britain, its army is led by British officers, it has been trained and equipped by the British government, and it is bound by treaty to Great Britain.

Therefore, in arranging for a peace treaty between Israel and Trans-Jordan, Mr. Bevin, acting through his delegate on the Security Council, will be negotiating with his agents in Trans-Jordan. Mr. Bevin is, therefore, exceptionally well placed for the role of peacemaker.

Since the provisional government of Israel has explicitly and unreservedly accepted the boundaries fixed by the United Nations, the problem of making peace is reduced to persuading the king of Trans-Jordan to come up to but not cross those boundaries.

It is evident that Mr. Bevin is the man to induce the king of Trans-Jordan to do just that. For Mr. Bevin controls all the inducements, and consequently his is the main responsibility for the prevention of an international war in the Middle East.

Still a Fast Town With a Dollar

NEW YORK—I am back for another look at what the quantitative-minded call the world's greatest city.

It looks about the same as on previous visits. With the addition of still more trick advertising signs to hold the attention of gawkers, Broadway has taken on an even more garish carnival atmosphere. The usual number of midtown streets are dug up. The subways are still sadly in need of the service of men and brooms.

However, the visitor can readily detect certain subtle changes in the economic climate.

Hotel clerks are more tractable. Those who live by tips seem to be aware that the days of following money furtively slipped into the outstretched palm is over.

Except for 2 or 3 outstanding hits, tickets are readily available at boxoffices for all shows. At the racetracks, cashiers and sellers at the $50 betting windows have lots of idle time. The plush ropes aren't often up at the fancier restaurants.

On the other hand, there are no unemployed selling apples on street corners.

SIGNS: On a 3rd avenue delicatessen "Bagels R in Season". In the window of a bar on the same street: "Our Beer Is in a Glass by Itself". On a drugstore near a school in the Bronx: "Children Should Be Seen and Not Hurt."

I intend to see 15 plays and musicals during this visit, as well as several foreign-made pictures.

Also, on several afternoons I shall go to the racetrack to "study conditions" and gather material for a report on which I have been working for many years. Those who imply that I go to the track for any other reason are promulgating a canard, a rank canard.

ONE OF THE FIRST things I saw after getting off a train here early last Sunday morning was a marching column of caparisoned Scotsmen and Scotswomen, with a bagpipe band in full cry at the head of the procession. It was the Loyal Sons & Daughters of Hibernia enroute to a breakfast meeting. While a kilty band may make Scottish hearts beat faster at 7:30 of a Sunday morning, I shoudder to think what it would do to any hangover sufferers with a carsnot.

It becomes apparent here why hat manufacturers are pooling their money to urge men to buy hats—any kind of hat. On a Sunday afternoon, I estimate that 35 or 40 per cent of the men on the street are hatless, and in Central Park the percentage is almost double that. On week days the figure is lower, but still formidable enough to make hat manufacturers wonder if their product may be going the way of the cap.

A trip through a suburb like Forest Hills or Kew Gardens reveals how rapidly television is catching on. Apartment house roofs are veritable jungles of aerials. Some rooms are equipped with aerials designed to serve several sets.

Every bar in town has a television set, except for a comparative few located where the capricious video waves can't be received. It takes a nice bit of adjusting to ascertain what type of aerial is best for a certain location. Height and large size don't necessarily mean anything. Some sets work better when the aerial is lowered and its dimensions reduced.

As for watching a baseball game via video, it's a quick way to pass an afternoon. The movies it reproduces, however, are little better than museum pieces.

THE GARMENT district's traffic jams, the most fantastically complex on earth, have been considerably eased by a system of night deliveries and pickups.

No longer is the area clogged all day long with a mass of huge trucks interlaced with taxis, private cars and men pushing wheeled racks. While the situation is still far from perfect, it has now been changed from one of hopeless bedlam to simmering confusion.

A phenomenon of the garment district is the noontime custom of "schmoozing." After they've eaten lunch, the workers gather on the streets to schmooze (Approximate equivalent: Shoot the breeze). The sidewalks and sometimes the streets themselves are so crowded they are almost impassable. Languages include German, Czech, Yiddish, Polish and some tongues only a linguist could identify.

Baby Sitters

By TRUMAN TWILL

AMONG the standard types of American baby-sitters and inducements offered for their services are these:

School girl type. Interested in picking up a little spending money, candy, soft drinks, radio music and light reading. Fond of children, she says. Also fond of falling asleep on davenport. Will wash dishes if extra inducement is right.

Good neighbor type. Sympathizes with young parents tied down to home responsibilities. Urges them to get out occasionally to relieve the tension. Knows how tough it can be. Willing to drop in anytime. Only inducement required is continued friendship. Very rare, valuable specimen.

Mother-in-law type. Subject to sudden call. If necessary, baby to be sat with can be parked with this type on own premises, perhaps to stay all night. Also available for sitting in daytime. This type takes it in the neck, no profit.

Professional type. Found only in communities of some size. Responsibility certified. Rates standard—pay cash. Will stand for no monkey business. Takes firm attitude with children. Proves that free enterprise in the United States seldom misses a bet. Also that law of supply and demand still works.

Auntie type. May or may not be blood relative. Frequently middle-aged friend of family. Sees her duty and does it. Wants parents to run along and have good time—never mind her. Glad to do it. Children glad too; she spoils 'em. Bless her. Asks nothing but gratitude.

Mother type. Similar to mother-in-law type (see above). But feels more duty-bound to accept responsibility. May be called on to sit with grandchildren for as long as two weeks at a time. Deep sense of responsibility. Incumbent: family ties.

Grandpa type. Knows no reason why an old man can't sit with babies. Proves it by doing firstrate job. Welcomes chance to get away from home and play with radio. Lets children have fine time. Awkward about handling clothes problems, but willing. Cold beer in refrigerator only inducement needed.

Miscellaneous type. May be anybody. Has been anybody—bachelors, strangers reached by telephone via a friend, war veterans, college boys, soldiers, sailors, casual acquaintances, visiting relatives, visitors who were not relatives, postmen, milkmen. Willing to do a favor. Relishes idea of joining fastest-growing occupation in United States. Values privilege of boasting about prowess as a babysitter—never had a bit of trouble...only woke up once . had fun time ..don't mention it—glad to oblige.

When a dial telephone is cut into a manual exchange, the operator often hears the number sounded by the playing of a recorded pattern of numbers through her headset.

CHAPTER 2

"Building the Erie"

THE morning was crisp and frosty in the valley of the upper Delaware that seventh day of November 1835. A couple of men poked through the stubble of an open field near Deposit, N. Y. carrying a shovel, a spade and trundling a wheelbarrow. They were hardly laborers. Here was James Gore King, president of the Erie Railroad, Lieut. Gov. Root, State Treasurer Stuyvesant, and many other leading statesmen from Albany. Each man shoveled out a barrowful of dirt, wheeled it a short distance away and dumped it. The result was an excavation which could be seen for a number of years from the track of rails".

These were the first spadefuls turned in the construction of the Erie, and a month later they looked like almost the last. In December, fire raged through the business section of New York City, ruining some of the heaviest subscribers to the new road. Then came the panic of 1836, affecting the economy of the entire country.

Enthusiasm for financing the Erie dwindled to nothing, until the indomitable Eleazar Lord took over from President King. Under Lord the road started to become the "people's choice." He fathered the idea of having the on-line towns raise the necessary money by public subscription to the stock, with the state matching the amounts. Time and again in bad times, this precedent kept the company alive. The new chief saw to it that the contracts to lay track 10 miles west from Piermont, and east from Dunkirk were let immediately, and a little later received permission from the board of directors to extend the easterly contract to Goshen.

SO FAR, SO GOOD, and then the gifted Eleazar Lord made two expensive mistakes that Erie was many years in rectifying. He insisted on a soon-outdated six-foot gauge and on having the tracks run on an impractical lumber trestle through the Susquehanna valley, to avoid snow blocks. Despite this, there was progress. Orange and Rockland counties, the only two which had not co-operated before, began to work with Lord, and were actually getting their railroad. Before 1840, the entire line with the exception of the difficult 40 miles between Deposit and Binghamton was under contract, due to the activity in the enthusiastic southern counties.

On the 23rd of September, 1841, under the new president, James Bowen, the fine art of railroad junketing was inaugurated. The opening of the Erie through to Goshen was the cause for quite a celebration—the first of its kind in the country. The steamboat Utica received a distinguished company at her pier in New York City. Governor Seward and his civil and military staff were there, as were Congressman T. Butler King of Georgia, and Senator Phelps of Vermont. Bishop Onderdonk and the mayor of New York were there, and the party was made complete later on, when the famous W. Washington Irving, joined the party at Piermont.

EDWARD MOTT describes the jaunt . . . . "Two trains of cars were in waiting at Piermont to receive the guests and the number filled them more than comfortably. Only two of these were passenger cars, all the company had as yet, the rest being platform cars. The locomotive for the first train was the Orange. The Ramapo drew the second train. The cars sat so low down on their frames, burdened as they were with human beings, as to press the woodwork down upon the wheels, the flanges of which ground into it at every revolution. But in spite of this, which would be more than enough to start a panic along a railroad excursion party today, the excursionists seemed to have had a most enjoyable trip from the waters of the Hudson to the meadows of Orange county, and they arrived at Goshen, three hours after leaving Piermont, or about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The townspeople, the people from the hills and farms and towns for miles around, were there to welcome them with music, flags and guns, and tremendous cheers. The gathering at the station numbered thousands of enthusiastic and wonder-stricken people."

Soon after the opening, the Erie was in financial trouble again and Eleazar Lord returned to the helm. He cleared the company debt with the state legislature. More important, he saved the Erie for the man who was to follow him . . . . the man who led the railroad to its triumph.

ON AUG. 14, 1845, Benjamin Loder became president of the Erie. He was a big, powerful man and his activity saved the railroad from inertia. He called a meeting of 22 prominent New York citizens, and raised the better part of three million dollars in one hour. The remainder was made up by soliciting individual groups, not the least of which was put up by the town of Newburgh. There was precedent in this, for in the dark days of the railroad the village of Middletown had built its own extension to the Erie with the rails torn up from Dunkirk and transported by canal, to connect from Goshen.

After Otisville had been reached and passed in the construction of the road, English iron was no longer available for it could not be imported economically. However, good rail was now close at hand. In 1841, the Scrantons (George W. and Selden F.) had journeyed from their home at Oxford, N. J. where they possessed a small iron forge, a year to the hamlet of Slocum Hollow in the then desolate Lackawanna valley of northeastern Pennsylvania. Here they found both coal and iron in close proximity. On a small scale they established there an iron works destined to grow to larger size and to become the foundation of a now famous city, to which they gave their name. William E. Dodge, then on the board of directors, arranged for the Scrantons to make the rails at half the English cost.

New Year's Eve 1847 saw a race against time to bring the first train into Port Jervis before the turn of the year. The citizens and railroad men traveled to the edge of the town only to find that the tracks over the bridge had not been laid. Everybody piled on to help lay track, and rolled over the span 17 minutes before 1848.

IT HAD BEEN no easy job to span the rough terrain over the Shawangunk mountains, but from Port Jervis west was even worse. The rock-bound river banks called for the famous Erie bridges. There was a quantity of them, some beautifully engineered, like the Starrucca Viaduct.

Starrucca Viaduct, which carries the Erie so stoutly over the Starrucca creek, just four miles east of Susquehanna, is almost 100 years old now. It was built to accommodate 10 or 15-ton locomotives, yet today, this sturdy bluestone bridge may carry a 400-ton locomotive and 125 fifty-ton cars. When first built, the road was afraid to try running trains over it. In an excess of caution one crew started an engine across the new bridge and leaped to the ground. At the other end, another crew jumped aboard and stopped it. Such was the science of structural engineering.

With blasting and frightful construction conditions the Erie forged towards Binghamton. Upon arrival, there was another celebration for the first train, which had to battle through a raging snowstorm to make the trip. The New York and Erie Railroad was 200 miles long, and for the moment was the longest railroad in the United States.

Yet the party at Binghamton was nothing compared to the one that was given when the road reached Dunkirk. By February 1851 the track had progressed as far as Cuba, within 77 miles of its goal, and in the middle of April the final spike was driven at Cuba Summit.

MAY 14, 1851 was the date of the official opening of the road. President Loder had gone through the western counties to the Southern Tier, and had come up with enough money to finish the job. Nothing was spared in the following party. The president of the United States, Millard Fillmore, and four members of his cabinet, Daniel Webster, Governor Marcy of New York, and more mayors and senators than you could shake a stick at were present. Almost every town on the road was a way station for a speech, and at Binghamton the train pulled out with Daniel Webster still talking. The forerunner of the modern club car seems to have been included on the train, for distinct reference is made to the necessity of changing conductors, and some of the great names of the land were said to have "unbent, and dallied perhaps overmuch with the help of the good cheer that prevailed everywhere, without money and without price."

UPON ARRIVAL at Dunkirk the visitors found a table set up some 300 feet in length. The menu deserves quoting. 'Chowder, a yoke of oxen, barbequed whole, 10 sheep roasted whole, beef a la mode, boiled ham, corned beef, buffalo tongues, bologna sausage, beef tongues (smoked and pickled), 100 roast fowls, coffee, etc. There was pork and beans in tin vessels, holding 50 gallons each. Bread had been baked in loaves 10 feet by two, and so heavy were they that it took the combined strength of two men to carry them. Ranged along the table were barrels of cider to wash down the viands."

Benjamin Loder had taken the task of completing the Erie as planned, and he had accomplished it. The celebration at the end of the road was no more than his due.

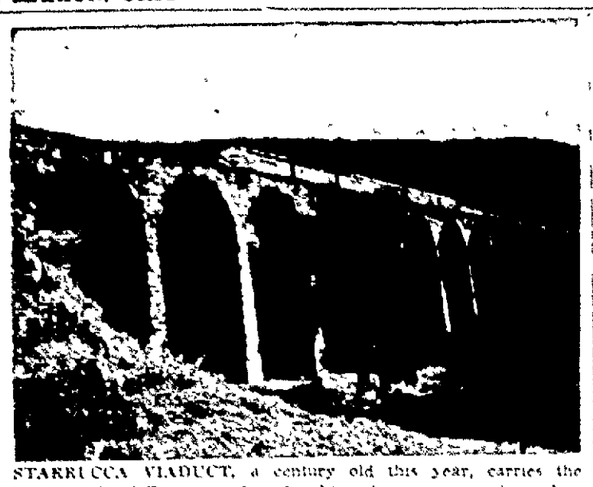
TOMORROW: "Expansion of the Erie." Story of development extends into Ohio.



STARRUCCA VIADUCT, a century old this year, carries the heavy loads of Erie main line freight and passenger trains today. When first built, railroaders hesitated to take the small trains across it.

Youth Council Hears Report on Retreat

At the monthly meeting of the Marion Youth council at the YMCA last week, Miss Marian Conley spoke of the state May II retreat at Camp Ina-mola which she attended recently with Betty West and Sylvia Ives as the Marion delegates. She spoke of the "unity of purpose through the entire program of panel discussion classes, and communion," as well as its programs and recreation. Attending besides the various delegates, were foreign students from Turkey, Austria, South Africa, China and a returned missionary from Puerto Rico. Arthur Villwock of Toledo was elected to head efforts for the Ohio Christian Youth Movement, of which Richard Howard of Marion was formerly president. Discussion was carried on of reconstruction of Europe. Stated as the conclusion reached was, "The hope of the world is the church, and youth working with adults."

A report was also made by Betty West, who led the devotions. The summer plans were outlined by Pauline Oder as chairman with Jean Hoffman conducting. Miss Virginia Howard presided in the absence of James Rex who was able to join the council at the close of the meeting. He urged continuance of the same kind of splendid cooperation as shown in the program throughout the year.

FIRE VICTIMS NEAR GOAL OF NEW HOME

Only 40 Concrete Blocks and 200 Brick Lacking.

The lack of 40 used concrete blocks and 200 used bricks stands today between Misses Christine and Dorothy Reichart, recent fire victims, and a new home, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt reported today.

Warm-hearted citizens of Marion and vicinity have donated furniture, roofing, labor, transportation, and cash toward building a new home for the two sisters, left homeless by a fire which destroyed their humble dwelling on North Main street.

All money donated for the new home, thus far, will be needed to purchase lumber. Anyone having used brick or concrete blocks they wish to donate to provide a foundation and chimney for the home are urged to call Fire Chief Sifritt at Marion 2672, or Police Chief W. E. Marks at Marion 4173. Transportation for the material will be provided Chief Sifritt said, only a call from the donor telling the location of the material being necessary. As soon as this much needed material can be secured construction of the "gift house" will begin. Labor for the project has already been offered.

insuring of civil rights in all countries: and so on."

Wallace's Objectives

(These are the six objectives toward which Wallace, in his "open letter" said the United States and Russia must take "definitive, decisive steps:"

1. "General reduction of armaments—outlawing all methods of mass destruction.

2. "Stopping the export of weapons by any nation to any other nation.

3. "The resumption of unrestricted trade (except for goods related to war) between the two countries.

4. "The free movement of citizens, students and newspapermen between and within the two countries.

5. "The resumption of free exchange of scientific information and scientific material between the two nations.

6. "The re-establishment of a re-invigorated UNRRA or the constitution of some other United Nations agency for the distribution of international relief."

Refers To Notes

Stalin referred to the recent diplomatic exchange between Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and U. S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith only to mention its "inadequacy." He said that exchange did nothing more than declare "the desirability of settling the Soviet-American differences."

The difference between the Smith-Molotov exchange and the Wallace proposals, Stalin said, "consists in the fact that it (Wallace's letter) does not limit itself to a declaration, but goes further, makes a serious step forward and gives a concrete program * * *."

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the old stomach and the ever-changing blood need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Fire Damages Palace Of Queen Wilhelmina

By The Associated Press

THE HAGUE, May 18—A fire severely damaged Queen Wilhelmina's Noordeine palace today, raging for an hour before it was brought under control.

Witnesses said the flames, fanned by a strong wind, probably were started by a torch used by painters, who were burning off old paint on the roof.

The 67-year-old queen and other members of the royal family were not at the palace, built in 1553 and the residence of the Orange dynasty for centuries. It has been used for official receptions only in recent years. Wilhelmina is staying at Het Loo, her summer residence in the country.

COLUMBUS, O., May 18 — Ex-Gov. Frank J. Lausche emerged today as the dominant figure in Ohio's Democratic party.

The tousel-haired Clevelander, fresh from a convincing rout of Ray T. Miller in a bitter gubernatorial nomination race, handpicked the party's central committee officers yesterday.

His bandwagon creaked as Miller supporters jumped aboard.

Lausche's choice for state chairman—Eugene H. Manhart of Dover—won without opposition. Mrs. Lena Siferd of Lima, one of Miller's most outspoken supporters in the primary, seconded Manhart's nomination.

John W. Powers of Youngstown was named vice chairman, Miss Mary Gallagher of Ironton, secretary, and Miss Mary McGowan of Akron, treasurer, to complete an entirely new central committee.

Then Lausche was escorted to the committee room. He extended "a warm handclasp to all of those who agreed with me and to those who disagreed with me."

It was the first state committee meeting Lausche attended since entering state politics four years ago.

Political observers regarded his appearance as meaning the committee now has met his concept of a political organization "to serve the people and only the people." Lausche long has fought those he describes as "professional political bosses."

Lausche, who faces Republican incumbent Thomas J. Herbert in the fall, said he was confident of victory.

Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, state chairman the past six years, announced before the meeting he would not seek reelection. Horstman and most other party leaders favored Miller.

Second Marion Man Given Prison Term

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 18—Common Pleas Judge Russell H. Kear yesterday overruled a motion for a new trial for Raymond Edward Littell, 28, of 276 Park boulevard, Marion. He also sentenced Littell to serve 1 to 25 years in Ohio penitentiary for unarmed robbery. Littell was found guilty last week by a Wyandot county jury in the April 1 stickup of Reno's Recreation room, a downtown card resort here.

Littell's attorney, Walter D. Moore of Marion, said today he would file an appeal in Clark's behalf within the 30-days. Moore said he would base his appeal on grounds that the constitutional rights of his client had been infringed upon. Moore said seven members of the jury which found Littell guilty had also sat in the case of Paul Robert Clark, 29, of 131½ South State street, Marion, who was found guilty of armed robbery in the card game holdup, is now serving 10 to 25 years in Ohio penitentiary.

Clark is in Wyandot county jail. Moore said he expected his client would be removed to the Ohio penitentiary in about three days to begin sentence while the appeal is pending.

six city blocks on both sides of the street. We purchased the land from Prichard and Company, 116½ South Main street, who will be sole agents for the finished homes.

"I am not prepared at this time to give a description of the houses we will erect but I can tell you we will erect 60 of them before the year is out. Our schedule at present calls for one house to be completed by the end of June, 10 in July, 10 in August, and 15 each month for the remainder of the year. They will sell at a cost varying between $8,000 and $8,500, setting the total value of the subdivision at the end of the year at $750,000. Financing of the project has already received the tentative approval of federal housing authorities. Plans for the subdivision were approved by the city planning commission last Friday and city council will act upon this approval at its next meeting. This will be our second housing project in Marion. We erected 24 units on Johnson street before selling the project to the Marion Contracting Corp."

Heads of both contracting firms said neither project would in any way resemble previous subdivisions here. Both voiced a belief in spacing houses farther from each other than has been done here formerly so that each home owner has the advantage of more sunlight, fresh air, and greater privacy and freedom from noise.

McMILLIN CALLS ACTION "PROTEST," RUSSIA SAYS

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 18—The Russian radio broadcast today a letter in which Sgt. James M. McMillin of the U.S. Army is quoted as saying he intends to stay here "as a protest against the anti-Soviet policies of the capitalists who at present rule America."

The letter was said to have been addressed by McMillin, of the military attache's office of the U.S. embassy in Moscow, to the mayor of Moscow and to U.S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith, who is fishing in France.

The state department announced in Washington Sunday night that McMillin, 21-year-old son of a regular army colonel, had been absent without leave from his embassy post since Friday and added that he obviously had been "seduced and exploited by an experienced Soviet woman agent."

PACKING CO. OFFER REFUSED BY STRIKERS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 18—CIO meat handlers today turned down a major packer's proposal to end the two-month old meat strike.

As a result, there was a sharp drop in hopes for quick settlement of the violence-marked dispute.

New negotiations broke off shortly after midnight without any announcement of when they may resume. The talks began yesterday.

Swift & Company last night offered three conditions as a basis for settling the nationwide strike strike which began March 16. The CIO packinghouse workers a few hours later rejected the proposal.

The union president, Ralph Helstein, objected specifically to a Swift proposal which he said would let the companies discharge any striking employe.

He said there is "no point talking about any of the rest" of the Swift suggestions—one of them an offer of a nine cent hourly wage increase effective last May 3.

AFL meat workers accepted the nine cent offer and did not strike. The CIO union has held out for 29 cents. The present scale paid two-thirds of the 100,000 CIO workers is $1.10 an hour or less.

In Iowa, meanwhile, two CIO local unions voted to end their strike with agreements including nine-cent hourly wage increases. At Charles City, Ia., a mob threw rocks and bottles at two homes of workers at a strikebound Decker company packinghouse in nearby Mason City.

Ingle may be at the bureau two or three months, after which a report of the finding will be made to Judge Pfeiffer. The report will not be made public here.

In Plain Words By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

A WORD is a mild word for relations between this country and Russia now.

Premier Josef Stalin of Russia said to that in the statement he issued last night.

Two weeks ago, at United States expense, Russia was told for world opinion, by saying she was willing to talk peace with this country.

Two weeks ago, with the world watching, the U. S. has been put in the position of having to turn down the suggestions, ignore them or do something about them.

You'll be hearing plenty about this for days to come. This will explain how it all happened:

James Marlow

This country's foreign policy is to stop the spread of Communism and Russian power.

For this the United States is building up its armaments—just in case—and helping 16 European nations get on their feet.

On May 4 the American ambassador to Moscow, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, called on Russia's foreign minister, Molotov, and gave him a note.

In effect, that note told the Russians: We mean what we say about our foreign policy.

Away down near the bottom of the note Smith told Molotov, "As for the U. S., the door always remains open for discussion and settlement of our differences."

On May 9 Molotov answered this note by saying:

"The Soviet government . . . is in agreement with the proposal to begin . . . A discussion and settlement of the differences existing between us."

THIS WAS THE FIRST the world knew of Smith's note to Molotov. It was pretty embarrassing to the United States. Why?

Because, the government said, Smith's note to Molotov was supposed to have been confidential.

Did Smith tell Molotov it was confidential? A state department official couldn't say for sure. He said he "assumed" so.

This government quickly sent assurances to Britain and France that we hadn't been engaged in any secret dealings with the Russians.

But, by making the notes public, the Russians gave the world the impression we had proposed peace talks and that they were glad to talk.

The whole thing was so confusing and embarrassing to this country that, on May 11, President Truman said Smith's note didn't change anything.

THIS DIDN'T EXPLAIN much. So the next day Secretary of State Marshall called a news conference to explain more. He said:

Smith hadn't proposed any peace talks between this country and Russia. He said Smith was merely telling the Russians we're very firm about our foreign policy.

But Henry Wallace, candidate for president on a third party ticket, stepped right into the middle of this confused picture.

Wallace, who has been suggesting peace talks with Stalin, addressed a political rally in New York's Madison Square Garden, May 11.

There he distributed leaflets outlining a number of points on which he said this country should have talks with Russia. His leaflets were in the form of an open letter to Josef Stalin.

And last night Stalin replied. He said Wallace's open letter is the most important political peace document of "recent times."

STALIN BRUSHED ASIDE the Smith-Molotov notes as "inadequate" anyway and said they didn't do much more than express the "desirability" of settling American-Russian differences.

Stalin said Wallace's letter went a lot farther and gave, in its various points, "a concrete program" for peaceful settlement of U. S.-Soviet differences.

And then, apparently trying to dump the responsibility for world peace in President Truman's lap, Stalin said:

"There is no statesman caring for peace and the cooperation among the peoples who can ignore this program." But he never mentioned Mr. Wallace by name.

In short, Stalin accepted Wallace's points as a good start for talks between this country and Russia.

Through this letter Stalin ignored the usual diplomatic channels and appealed to world opinion over the head of President Truman and the United States government.

And Mr. Truman and Secretary Marshall, who don't see eye to eye, got a letter from Stalin, since it was made public to the whole world will have to answer it some way.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

QUESTIONS ABOUT HOSPITAL

... The Star—I was ... in two articles ... Saturday, May 8, ... raised by Mr. ... concerning townships ... county on the ... Mayor Dowler re... have shown in... terest in a hospital construction project.

I am a resident outside of Marion and I should like to ask a few questions. Would a new hospital include a nurses' training school? If not, where would enough help be secured? Why should it cost so much to equip when there is so much equipment already in use? Is this another plan to spend the taxpayer's hard earned cash? Every time the government gets a hand into it usually costs a whole lot more than it should.

Why should present furniture etc. not be used to equip a new building unless the politicians bossing the thing want a nice contract for some outfit?

Why is not all of the present hospital in use? An employe there told me that since the addition was opened some of the old part hadn't been in use. Although the addition was supposed to be private rooms and wards, they have two beds in most of the rooms.

I understand the reason for shortage of nurses is not good enough pay. How could a new hospital remedy that? Low income patients can't afford to pay what the medical profession charges now without higher charges yet.

The second article I spoke of was written by J. L. Self. I too would like to know what became of that other hospital deal. Although I am not a Catholic I do know they do good hospital work, and it seems there should be room for two hospitals in the territory. Also it seems that contributions would be the fairest way. When it comes to voting bond issues people who can't do nothing can vote it on other shoulders to pay. Contributing what one feels he can do is different than being saddled with a heavier tax load. That load is a factor in keeping us from saving the money to meet the additional expenses when hospital care is needed.

It seems to be a standard idea now to spend a whole lot of money for show. Let's be sure where, what and how has the need is, then spend right.

Pupil Shows Slides Of Tour Through East

An unusual assembly was held Friday at Vernon Junior High school, consisting of an illustrated travel talk by Carolyn Kyes of 1133 East Center street, a ninth grade pupil. Miss Kyes, in the company of her father and mother, made a three-month tour of the Orient last winter and succeeded in getting some very fine color pictures which have been converted into slides. Miss Kyes commented upon each picture and related many little-known facts about customs and practices among the Chinese and Japanese people. Her talk started with her experiences in San Francisco. Following this, Hawaii, Japan, China and the Philippines were visited pictorially.

John Geer served as projectionist for Miss Kyes. Preceding the program, were devotions by Eddie Porter, and numbers by the ninth grade violin quartet composed of Joanne Jacobs, Phyllis Huffman, Joan Clark, and John Goff, with Jane Leffler, pianist.

Miss Kyes is the daughter of Helen Jacoby Kyes, a former teacher in the Marion schools.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I THOUGHT Dicky was most convincing in his defense of Georges, and I caught a gratified and admiring gleam in Mary's eyes, but the rest of the group was frankly skeptical. Another gust of laughter went 'round the room, and Harry Underwood rose, tapped his friend's head commiseratingly, and strode to the telephone. But I noticed that when he took down the receiver, he immediately put his finger in its place, effectively closing the circuit.

"Get me the doctor's office at once," he said. "Also call two psychiatrists, and send up three strong guards. We have a psycopathic case up here. I'll try to cope with him until you get here, but please hurry! Thank you!"

He replaced the receiver on the hook, and turned to me apologetically.

"Sorry, Madge," he said, "but I can see strong measures are necessary. Has this been coming on gradually, or is it a sudden seizure? Too bad! Too bad! A lad of such promise, too!"

"Listen here, you wild ass of the desert!" Dicky told his friend as soon as he had choked his laughter back, "if you're through putting on an act, I'd like to talk again. I know, you haven't been the center of attraction for almost half an hour, and it irks you. But just shut up now, and let your betters talk."

"I suppose at that," Harry said resignedly as he sat down again, "it may be as well to humor him until an orderly arrives. Go ahead, little boy, speak your piece."

"I have spoken it," Dicky said, "and I know how it must sound to those of you who didn't see Georges in action, and are depending only upon a factual report of his behavior.

"One thing I want to impress upon you," he went on, "Madge is not responsible for this belief of mine, although she shares it. We came to the same conclusion independently of each other, after watching Georges closely.

"I guess you know how reluctant I was to believe it," he said, tossing an affectionate glance at Mary. "I could have slayed the lad alive for the annoyance he had caused May and I when he came up with the marriage postponement thing. I had hard work restraining my strong right arm from jumping him across my knee and giving him what he should have had years and years ago.

"But," he went on, "gradually it was borne in upon me that while Georges is undoubtedly the world's most colossal cad—he must have stirred mush into his brain instead of gray cells—he is not a heel, nor yet a villain. He actually believed that he was saying. He really loves Olana, was heartbroken at the idea of losing her, but he was prepared to sacrifice himself, and her, because he thought it was his duty to rescue Mary from her marriage.

"To tell you an astounding truth," Dicky finished, "I never have seen more genuine suffering in a man's eyes than was mirrored in those of Georges when he was telling me these things. You saw the same thing, didn't you, Madge?"

"Yes, I am," I said defensively, "but I wouldn't have cared voice my belief if you hadn't spoken of it."

My husband blew me a kiss.

"Patient Griselda in the flesh!" he said. "That's the way to train 'em, Harry. If you and Jack would just study my methods a little, you wouldn't have to cope with hellions like Lil and Katrina."

"You're straying from the subject," Lilian told him severely. "But I'm here to tell you that I'm quite impressed with your recital. I wouldn't have believed Madge on a diet of celery, but ... I ... to Georges' ... left ... and ... change ... the rest of ... sat.

CHARGE FACED BY SCHOOL BUS DRIVER

Cited After Collision; Pupils Escape Injury.

Raymond James of LaRue, passenger in a car driven by Warren Glass of LaRue, suffered minor cuts and lacerations yesterday at 4:20 p. m. when a Marion Township school bus driven by Warren Thomas of 865 Bellefontaine avenue carrying five pupils and the Glass car collided on highway 95, the state highway patrol reported. None of the pupils was injured. James was taken to City hospital in the Hughes ambulance where he was treated and released.

The accident occurred about a mile west of Marion when the Glass vehicle was passing and the bus turned left while both vehicles were going west.

Thomas, arrested on a charge of failure to display signals, pleaded not guilty to the charge in municipal court today. The case will be heard in court tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

Two truck accidents and one arrest were included in a report made by the state highway patrol. Steve Sop of Sharon, Pa., driving a tractor and trailor loaded with steel, was forced off the highway five miles south of Mt. Gilead on route 61 at 5 a. m. yesterday by an unidentified motorist, spilling the load of steel and resulting in considerable damage to the vehicle. He was not injured.

On route 4, six miles south of Bucyrus, a truck driven by Clarence Burton of Palmyra, Pa., ran off the road when a tire blew out at 11:30 a. m. yesterday.

Gerald McKinley of Houston, Tex., was fined $15 and costs in mayor's court in Cardington, following his arrests on an excessive speed charge at 8 p. m. yesterday on highway 42.

FREE PARKING CALLED OFF AS KENTON METERS WORK

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 18—A steady stream of cash from fines poured into the city coffers today as a month-long "moratorium" on free parking in downtown Kenton came to a close.

On April 21 Mayor Loucks B. Brown issued a "free parking" edict for an undetermined period until parking meters could be properly repaired.

The meters had been in bad repair for some time and could not be repaired by local means. Thus, the mayor called upon the manufacturers to put them in working condition.

The mayor also decreed that monthly payments to the manufacturers be discontinued until revenues from the meters could be used again.

To Men of the High School CLASS OF '48

THERE'S a big day coming soon—the day when you get your diploma. At your graduation exercises you'll hear two things mentioned often—the opportunities and the obligations of manhood. Those aren't just words. They deserve the serious thinking of every high school graduate.

As an American citizen your opportunities are greater than in any other country on earth. And for that very reason you have an obligation to defend America and its freedoms—to make this way of life secure.

By enlisting in the Army or Air Force after graduation you will be discharging your debt to your country. At the same time you can take advantage of one of the finest opportunities ever offered a young man.

CHOOSE YOUR FIELD OF SPECIAL TRAINING BEFORE YOU ENLIST!

If you are 18 to 34 (17 with parents' consent) and a high school graduate, you can select your course of training in the Army or the Air Force before enlisting.

Under the Army Technical School Plan you can specify two different courses that appeal to you in each of two fields. The Army will check to make sure there is an opening in one of the four courses you have selected, and a place will be reserved for you in that course. Then you enlist for 3, 4 or 5 years, and after passing the physical and mental examinations and completing basic training you will be guaranteed training in your chosen field.

The Air Force offers a similar opportunity in its Aviation Career Plan, giving you a pre-enlistment choice of 3 among the more than 40 USAF Specialist Schools. There is no better way to get a start in the great and growing field of aviation.

Either plan gives you good pay, excellent training and a splendid chance for advancement in a real career. You can get full information, including lists of available Specialist Schools and Technical Courses, at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

[illegible] Hays explained several reasons [illegible]the need of a more adequate [illegible]rogram for delinquent boys and he referred to plans for transferring part of the school to Marion in a portion of the Scioto Ordnance Plant area. He said the school needs more room, including a training center for the older boys where they can be taught a trade. Mr. Hays added that the minimum stay for boys at the school here would be 18 months.

A report on plans for the soap box derby was given by Frank Gage. He announced that books of rules and instructions have been received but no application blanks as yet. No definite date has been set for the derby, but it will probably be in July. The booster prize was won by Richard Probst. Election of officers will be held at the meeting May 31.

Cubs present were D. K. Montgomery, Robert Ruth, Harry Haberman, John Schaffner, Thomas E. Sonnanstine and Fred Raab. Guests of the club were James Goyer, Otis Porter and Marion Apple, probation officer of the juvenile court, all of Marion, and C. B. Dr. William F. Via Jr., Mt. Gilead, last week called on Senators Taft and Bricker and Congressmen Smith, Ramey and Vorys in Washington, D. C., and personally invited each on behalf of the Morrow County Centennial committee to attend the centennial celebration, July 3, 4 and 5, at Mt. Gilead.

The invitations were tendered and accepted at a luncheon in the Capitol restaurant.

Dr. Via was accompanied by his wife on the Washington trip.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Symptoms That Make Doctor's Job Difficult

NOWHERE, not even at a twins' convention, are there more "look alikes" than in the world of medicine. One disease can imitate another so perfectly as to "fool the experts," unless a very thorough examination is made.

One of these traditional "foolers" is a bowel disorder due to what are known as diverticula, which can, on occasion, duplicate either the smyptoms of gallstones or those of stomach ulcer.

Sometimes the walls of the first part of the bowel known as the denum become weakened and, as a result, a little out-pouching occurs, such as may develop a weak spot in an automobile tire. These out-pouchings are called diverticula.

Such diverticula may be present without causing symptoms. However, in most cases, they do cause trouble, and, as I said earlier, the symptoms may be much like those of other digestive disorders.

These symptoms consist of pain and tenderness in the abdomen, sickness at the stomach, and diarrhea.

The pain may be in the right lower part of the abdomen. It may pass to the back at or at times into the right shoulder. The pain is apparently made worse by eating. In some cases, nausea or sickness at the stomach may accompany the pain or may occur at other times. Now and then, the diverticula press on the bile duct which empties into the intestine and, as a consequence, the flow of bile is blocked, resulting in jaundice or a greenish, yellowish discoloration of the skin, so suggestive of gallstones.

In themselves, these symptoms are not typical of the disease, and hence, a decisive diagnosis cannot be made on the symptoms alone.

In order to make a definite diagnosis of the diverticula, X-ray examination is required. The X-ray examination should include the entire gastro-internal tract and especially the gallbladder. Once the diverticula have been discovered in the X-ray plate, the doctor will decide whether or not they are responsible for the trouble because, as I have stated, not all diverticula cause symptoms.

When the diagnosis is certain, and it has been determined that the diverticula are responsible for the symptoms, an operation for their removal is sometimes advised.

Where the patient is in such poor condition that an operation cannot be carried out, medical measures, such as the use of a bland diet the giving of mineral oil and lying on the side after meals, are carried out. The bland diet is one which contains no highly-seasoned or bulky foods.

Diverticulitis is usually not a serious disorder, but when diagnosed it should receive prompt treatment along accepted lines.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. C.: If a large lump appeared in the breats during pregnancy and in a few months disappeared after nursing, what would be the reason?

Answer: The swelling might be due to a cyst or, possibly, to a blocked milk duct. The latter is the most probable cause.

TALKS HER WAY OUT OF IT

By The United Press.

ST. LOUIS—It wasn't because the traffic cop had a change of mind that Mrs. Charlotte Lee was freed of a parking charge. She simply argued with the officer so long that when he finally got around to handing her a ticket it was past the deadline for parking. The charge was dimissed in court.

MARION AD AGENCY WINS TOP AWARDS

Swink Office Takes Prizes in National Contest.

Word was received today from San Francisco that the Howard Swink Advertising Agency, Inc. of Marion, has won four first awards in the creative awards competition at the annual convention of the National Advertising Agency Network, of which the Swink organization is a member. The network is a chain of 27 locally owned and operated advertising agencies in the United States.

In competition with the advertising of some 1,100 companies throughout the country, advertising campaigns prepared by the Swink agency for its clients received top honors in the general magazine classification, farm paper classification, employee relations classification and external house organ classification.

In addition to the four "premium awards" the Swink agency also received one second place, three third places and one fifth place in various other award classifications.

Mr. and Mrs. Swink, who are in attendance at the San Francisco conference, plan to return to Marion this week.

Muncie Reds Climb Back Into 1st Place in Ohio-Indiana League

Drop Springfield to Second, 2-1; Portsmouth Beats Richmond, 6-5

By The Associated Press

Mike Blazo, dean of Ohio-Indiana baseball league managers, had his Muncie Reds back in first place today.

Muncie made it the hard way last night, knocking off Springfield, 3-1. Either Muncie or Springfield has lead throughout the young season.

Blazo, in this third season at Muncie, started his ace pitcher—Ken Lanning — against Springfield. He came through in masterful fashion, yielding only five hits and striking out 10 batters. It was his third win against no defeats.

Portsmouth captured the night's only other game—6-5 over Richmond. The defeat dropped Richmond out of the first division and into fifth place.

Needs Help

Don Whitmore, Portsmouth's star pitcher, received credit for his fourth win against no losses, although he needed help from Em Diano in the ninth after Richmond tallied two runs and had the tying counter on base.

Bob Nieman, who switched from the outfield to catcher last night, scored both Muncie runs. He doubled in the second and scored on an infield error. Then in the sixth, he singled, moved to second when Leonard Gibson walked and came in when John Moore singled.

Springfield's run was made on Don Matthew's single, a Muncie infield error and a sacrifice by pitcher Buck Byham.

Portsmouth managed only five hits off reliefer Jack Flanagan, who took over after three runs in the eighth on two walks, two errors and a single.

Marion Still 4th

Muncie now leads with an 11-6 record. Springfield has 8-5, Portsmouth 9-6 and fourth-place Marion 7-7.

The linescores:

Springfield	000 010 000	1	5 3
Muncie	010 001 00x	2	7 2

Portsmouth	300 000 030	6	8 4

Bruins Suffer Batting Slump

The Marion Cub's collective batting average took a 23-point tumble in the ill-fated week ended Sunday, dropping from a league-leading .287 to .264.

All but two of the Bruins suffered slumps in their individual averages as the club lost three out of five away games. Catcher Tom Gatts picked up eight points to .269 and pitcher Frank Deluca's first safety of the season brought his average from nothing to .083.

Second-baseman Tony Mislovich is still in the lead with a .379 and Lee Bohlander still leads in runs batted in with 17.

For the third consecutive week Bill Bolduc leads in the number of extra-base hits. He has rapped out five two-baggers, a triple and a homer.

Pitcher Frank Marchelli, who hurled his first game at Newark Sunday, has the best percentage at 1-0, but Nick Alivojvodic is the winningest pitcher with a 3-1 record. Nick also leads in complete games, 3, strikeouts, 33, bases on balls, 20, innings pitched, 28, hits allowed, 28, runs allowed, 22, and is tied with Si Pavkov in the number of wild pitches thrown, 4.

Alivojvodic, Pavkov and Frank DeLuca have all pitched in five games. Ramon Peet has appeared in three games and Burgemeister in two. Marchelli and Wensing have worked in but one game each. Lefty John Graney, who was sold to the Elizabethton, Tenn., Cubs over the weekend, appeared briefly in two games and Tom Jones, who was released, in one.

Ohio Golf Tourney Was All-OSU Affair

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 18 — Ohio's intercollegiate golf tournament was an all-Ohio State university affair yesterday.

Coach Bob Kepler's Buckeyes took home everything but the sand from the traps.

Kepler entered three teams and labeled them 1, 2 and 3. They finished exactly that way in the team scoring, leaving squads from eleven other colleges far behind.

Then, making it all the more impressive, Ohio State's Bob Hamrich carded a 71-79—150 to take the individual medal. A teammate and fellow Clevelander, Alex Poll, was next with 151.

Miami university was awarded second-place team honors by officials who ruled Ohio State could win only one place. Miami's four best shooters carded a 650-stroke total. OSU's No. 1 had a 611, the No. 2 had a 627 and the No. 3 a 645.

Denison trailed Miami with 654, followed by Cincinnati 656, Otterbein 674, Bowling Green 678, Ohio Wesleyan 679, Dayton 686, Kent State 698, Mount Union 699, Marietta 716, and Kent State Canton Branch 745.

Hamrich's morning round 71 was the only sub-par 18 holes of the 36-hole meet. High winds, cold and occasional rain sent many scores soaring.

ASHLEY WHIPS LINDEN

The Ashley Independents walloped the Linden Merchants, 15-9 on the Ashley diamond Sunday. With the score tied 3-3 in the fifth, Fry, sent in to pinch hit for Boring, tripled, driving in three runs. Ashley pitcher Fathbrukner coasted from there out. Sammy's Nite club of Marion will play at Ashley May 23.

FLYING SPIKES. Cass Michaels, Chicago White Sox shortstop, slides safely into second base as Lou Boudreau, Cleveland Indians manager and shortstop, jumps for the ball in third inning of first game of doubleheader (May 16) in Cleveland. Boudreau was spiked on the play but continued to play. Chicago won the first game, 6 to 4. (Associated Press Wirephoto).

Georgia Boy Is Baseball's Kid Sensation of 1948

By The Associated Press

THOMASTON, Ga., May 18—This small mid-Georgia town claims baseball's kid sensation of 1948—a high school pitcher who strikes out so many men his fielders pinch themselves to stay awake.

The youngster is Hugh Frank Radcliffe, who recently set a world record by fanning 28 batters in a single nine-inning game. To date Radcliffe has whiffed 140 batters in 54 2/3 innings this year—about 2.5 strikeouts per inning. He has pitched two no-hitters and two one-hitters in six games. His earned run average is something less than .022 per inning.

Scouts Pouring In

Baseball scouts are pouring into Thomaston. Talent hunters from at least a dozen major league clubs, and many more from the minors, have watched the 19-year-old operate.

Not since the early days of Bob Feller and Schoolboy Rowe, fans here say, has a kid stirred such a furor. The scouts agree that Radcliffe undoubtedly will get his high school diploma in one hand this June and a fat contract in the other.

They are forbidden, though, from bidding for his services until he graduates.

Around Thomaston, the big event in Radcliff's record was those 28 strikeouts in nine innings. The opposition was big Lanier High in Macon. Twenty-eight strikeouts, of course, is one more than needed to retire all the batters singlehandedly from the mound. Radcliff's catcher couldn't handle one of his fast drops and the runner beat it out to first on a third strike.

Only ten batters touched the ball, and seven of the knocks were foul.

Only 3 Into Field

That left only three balls tapped within the playing field by Lanier all afternoon. One of these was scored a hit.

The other two men reached first on errors, but nobody blamed the fielders. They had watched Radcliffe pitch for seven innings without handling a ball.

Radcliffe is six-feet, one-and-a-half inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. His coach, J. E. Richards, says the young pitcher is amazingly unimpressed by the praise heaped upon him. Radcliffe remains in perfect trim, the coach says—he doesn't drink, smoke, or even indulge in ice cream sodas.

Boston Braves Are Hottest Team In National League at Moment

By The Associated Press

They may rave about the wonderful St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff. They may gape in awe at the New York Giants' devastating power. They may admire and envy Brooklyn's depth with its youth and speed. The solid team in the National league, however, is the Boston Braves.

Boston is not in first place. The Braves are third, but only because they got off to a miserable start. They dropped six of their first seven games.

Since then Boston has won 11 and lost four. The best record by far, in the circuit for the period. Billy Southworth's men haven't lost since May 9.

Open Home Stand

They open a 14-game home stand tonight, boasting the league's No. 1 pitcher in Bill Voiselle, No. 2 batter in Tommy Holmes, the best fielding percentage of any club in the circuit and a four-game winning streak.

The Braves ended a successful road trip last night by crushing the Dodgers in Brooklyn, 12-3. It marked their fourth straight win over Brooklyn without a setback. It also gave them a record of eight victories in 11 road games.

No team in the league—and that includes the Cardinals — boasts three front line hurlers such as Boston's Johnny Sain, Warren Spahn and Voiselle. This trio has given up only three runs in Boston's last four games.

Another hot club, the Philadelphia Phils, defeated the New York Giants 7-1. The victory moved the Phils up to fourth place, only three percentage points behind the Braves.

Johnny Blatnik paced the Phils' 10-hit attack against Bobo Newsom and three successors. The rookie outfielder, picked up in the draft last fall, cracked three hits in four times up to wrest the league's batting leadership from Boston's Tommy Holmes with .438 to .435. He has hit safely in nine consecutive games.

Those were the only games scheduled in the majors.

Braves Label Cards The Team To Beat

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, May 18—Frankly referring to his own club as "pennant contenders," Boston Braves general manager John Quinn today selected the St. Louis Cardinals as the team to beat but emphasized "there isn't a real soft touch in the league."

Back from an unsuccessful trip during which he sought trades with seven other National league clubs, Quinn said of the Redbirds, currently leading the circuit:

"They have the pitching in addition to top players at other positions. They started off well and they're rough. That Nippy Jones (St. Louis first baseman) is proving to be a good ball player."

The Cincinnati Reds will be "better after Ewell Blackwell gets going," added Quinn.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR OSGOOD PLANNED

The Marion Cubs, idle yesterday, open a two-game series at Zanesville tonight and will play the Dodgers again tomorrow night before returning to Marion Thursday for the first game of a 12-game home stand.

A short memorial service in memory of catcher Robert Osgood, who died of a heart attack at Richmond last week, will be held at Lincoln park immediately before the Marion-Newark game Thursday night, Rev. Howard L. Olewiler will officiate.

Probable starting pitcher on Thursday will be Ramon Peet.

Ohio-Indiana League President Frank Colley ruled yesterday that the eight clubs in the league have until May 27 before cutting down their squads to a maximum of 18 players. Because of a misunderstanding in the interpretation of the rules it was at first believed that the clubs had to be cut down by yesterday which would have been 20 days after the season began.

At the present time O-I clubs can carry up to 20 players on the active list.

RAIN HALTS HARDING, SOFTBALL OPENERS

Harding High school baseball and YMCA softball are both awaiting the pleasure of the weather before continuing with regular scheduled games, after revision and postponement of yesterday's frays.

The Harding diamond crew, scheduled to meet Upper Sandusky on the Upper field yesterday in their next to last contest for the season, cancelled the game because of damp weather. And a game to be played here with the Ashland A's will be played at Lincoln park provided the diamond drys out sufficiently for playing.

YMCA Church loop softball teams, poised at the starting line for the season race, failed to leave the barrier; Commercial league teams will open the season today. The Church loopers, rained out on the first day of play, have revised their schedules and will start Friday, while Commercial league teams play the inaugurals.

Twilight games will be played on four fields this evening. Eagles will play Co. C at Eagles field; Post 162 is scheduled to play W and W Provision at Harding; Junior C of C and Shanty Town at McKinley; and Farm Bureau vs MMP at Garfield.

Harding will be out for revenge if today's game is played. They dropped an 8-0 verdict to the A's, in the first meeting. On that occasion Ashland's Dick Messner shut the locals out while permitting only one hit.

Softball, once rolling, will feature 28 teams comprising the Church, Commercial 1 and 2, and Industrial leagues. The eight team Church league will play on Mondays, with the exception of Friday's games this week, the six team Commercial league will play on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the Industrial circuit will play on Thursdays.

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, May 18 — Jack Dempsey, Gus Lesnevich or Arthur Donovan will referee the return match between Arturo Godoy and Pat Richards here June 14, it was learned today. Officials of the Quality Club, which is promoting the 10 round return match between the South American heavyweight and the Ohio State student, said they would try to get Lesnevich first.

"That was the only time in my life I've been knocked out," Henry explained

Winding up at Buffalo, Flakes decided to give the pro fight game a whirl Meanwhile, in the intervening years, he had filled out his long frame until it carried a solid 198 pounds. His progress was rapid.

Exceptionally fast on his feet, Henry also is a good, solid puncher. As Oma explained:

On top of that, there isn't too much around in heavyweight circles. So a good youngster has bright prospects. They claim that Henry is only 21, which would make him 15 at Pearl Harbor, rather difficult to absorb.

But even if you tacked on a couple of years he still has lots of time—an item which such as Louis and Walcott haven't.

HARVEY HADDIX IS TOAST OF COLUMBUS

By The Associated Press

Harvey Haddix, one of the youngest pitchers in the American Association, was the toast of Columbus Tuesday.

The lean, 22-year-old rookie twirled a four-hitter as the Red Birds continued their bid for the first division with a 7-1 win over Indianapolis.

Haddix, who had a 19-5 record for Winston-Salem last year, had a shutout until the ninth. He fanned six and retired 17 batters in a row from the third inning through the eighth.

Backing him up was Columbus' slugger, Mike Natusin. Mike connected for his fifth homer of the campaign and also slammed a double to knock in three runs

The defeat failed to dislodge the Tribe from second place because third-place Minneapolis also lost. Milwaukee trounced the Millers 11-4 with Skippy Rogerge's grand slam homer in the second round, setting the tempo

With Minneapolis and Indianapolis losing, St. Paul increased its lead to 2½ games by edging the Blues 6-5 in the series opener at Kansas City

Louisville's game at Toledo was rained out.

Battle Royal On Thursday Mat Card

A battle royal will be the feature of Armory activity come Thursday night Meeting and matting on this week's card will be five groaners of diverse fan appeal.

First, Bill Murray, the cleancut Canuck who has the fans on his side, Silent Rattan, who don't say nothin'; Gene Blakely, the terrible Texan, disliked by the fans; Jack Terry, bloomin' Englishman, making his first appearance here for sometime, and Bill Sledge, also of Texas and new here.

In the process of elimination, the first man pinned is out, the next two come back for a 15 minute semi-final and the last two return for a two-hour main match. The Barlow brothers, fifty pounds each, will wrestle a 10-minute preliminary.

NCO Softball League Formed

Formation of the new NCO Inter-City softball league, after a hectic beginning and many disappointments, has finally been achieved

An election of officers has been held, teams have been chosen and schedules have been drawn up

First game for Smitty's Grill, the local entry, will be played at Crystal Lake park June 2 when the Gorman Rupp team of Mansfield will appear here

Officers elected to govern the league include T W Miller of Ashland, president, Harold Smith of Marion, vice president; Loren Tibbals, sports editor of the Ashland Times Gazette, secretary, and J. C. Gorman of Mansfield, treasurer

After several unsuccessful attempts to round out a compact league that would keep all of the participating teams within short driving distance of one another and at the same time maintain a high quality of play, five teams were accepted — Smitty's Grill, Ashland Indians, South Packers of Tiffin, Gorman Rupp of Mansfield, Stone's Grill of Mt Vernon and the Elks of Willard

No league games were scheduled for Sunday in Marion to avoid confliction with the Cubs' baseball games and to allow for attractions outside the regular league.

Among the non-league teams booked for Smitty's are the Ohio State penitentiary team, July 17, and the London Prison Farm team, July 3.

Other contests booked outside league competition include Ferguson Auditors, William McNabb, 740 A C., Post 72, Hamilton, Pine Room of Springfield, and W & W Provision (former Schlaret Transfer team)

Smitty's Girls will play Danville, Mt Vernon, Galion, Norwalk, Delaware Sandusky, Clyde, Fremont, Columbus and Elyria teams

Youth Bound Over In Theft of Auto

Richard Leroy Sanderson, 18, of 838 Congress street entered a plea of guilty in municipal court this morning to charges of auto theft filed by city police. He was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond by Judge Hazen.

Sanderson was arrested by police yesterday at 4:30 p. m. on South Main street.

Information resulting in the arrest was discovered by police in the course of investigation of another case.

Police say Sanderson admitted that he and another youth, a juvenile, stole a car owned by James F. Ulsh of near Caledonia from a parking lot near the Marion stock yards at 3 p. m. the afternoon of Oct. 27, 1947. The second boy is in the county detention home.

Police reports of that date show that shortly after 3 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Ulsh left the stock yards to go to their car and found it had been stolen. They immediately reported the theft to police who found the car abandoned on Davids street at 8:45 that night. A police spokesman said Sanderson gave his reason for stealing the car "that it was raining and he and the other boy wanted a ride home."

Two Lectures Set By Dr. Kirby Page

Arrangements have been completed for the visit of Dr. Kirby Page of LaHabra, Calif., world traveler, author and lecturer, in Marion Wednesday when he will speak to two audiences. He will be heard at the YMCA at a meeting of the Wednsday Noon Bible class, and at 7:30 p. m. at a special meeting at Wesley Methodist church sponsored by the Marion County Council of Churches social action committee of which Rev. Eldred Johnston is chairman. His messages will concern the world situation arising from the relations between this country and Russia.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

BERTRAND RUSSELL, born May 18, 1872, is famous as a philosopher, mathematician and a British Earl. His views on sex have made him a center of controversy. But much of his stature as a scholar rests on his books on mathematics, one of which has been placed in a list of the 100 most important books of all time. For six years, he taught in several U.S. schools. Late in World War II he returned to England to take his place in the House of Lords. His grandfather was a prime minister.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Hollywood has bought the screen rights to "Nature Boy" . . . They have a fellow in mind for the lead but he's campaigning right now.

* * *

But I don't think it's right for the band to play "The Man on the Carousel" when he enters the hall.

* * *

Incidentally some movie houses are featuring a new kind of double bill . . . "Iron Curtain" on the screen and "Mission from Moscow" on the sidewalk.

* * *

Four Russian composers have been put in a difficult position . . . They don't seem to like the idea of Zanuck appreciating their music more than Stalin.

The picture might even win Oscars for them but that would be more trouble . . .
